

ESRC Research Group on Wellbeing in Developing Countries

Announcement: International Conference Wellbeing in International Development Bath UK, 28-30 June 2007

This international conference will mark the culmination of the first phase of the WeD research programme 2002-2007.

External speakers and discussants for plenary sessions will include:

Barbara Harriss-White	Wolfson College, Oxford
Manfred Max-Neef	Universidad Austral de Chile in Valdivia; CEPAAUR (Centre for Development Alternatives)
Guy Standing	University of Bath
Ruut Veenhoven	Erasmus University, the Netherlands

Conference Objectives:

- To make a major contribution to emergent paradigms of international development centred on the notion of human wellbeing.
- To present the major findings of the WeD research programme.
- To draw together an invited group of international participants to discuss the academic and policy value of studying wellbeing.

Conference Organisation:

The conference will comprise a combination of plenary presentations and open discussion, plus parallel sessions consisting of grouped papers, dealing with specific aspects of the wellbeing and development agenda.

It will commence with lunch on Thursday 28 June and conclude midday Saturday 30 June. It will include a reception at the Roman Baths and a dinner at the Guildhall in Bath.

Further details will be available
shortly on the conference website at www.welldev.org.uk/conference2007.

For enquiries please contact
wed@bath.ac.uk.

www.welldev.org.uk

